A perfect book for the budding geologist with phenomenal photography

By outwest

National Geographic does it again! A fund kids book with great pictures about some of the most powerful forces on earth: volcanoes and earthquakes. This book does not disappoint with phenomenal photography and has enough detail for younger kids without being overbearing and too detailed.

A must for the junior geologists.

Wonderful illustrations!

By R. Mink

This was a gift for my son's 5th grade science class. His teacher raved about the illustrations! It has become a wonderful addition to their class!
